

Peace Corps Prep Student Guide

The Peace Corps Prep program will prepare you for international development fieldwork and potential Peace Corps service. To accomplish this, you'll build four core competencies through interrelated coursework, hands-on experience, and professional development support. These four competencies are the following:

- 1. Training and experience in a work sector
- 2. Foreign language skills

- 3. Intercultural competence
- 4. Professional and leadership development

This document explains each of these requirements in detail. Use this guide to map out your Peace Corps Prep course of study. In particular, refer to this when completing your PC Prep application, where you'll need to document how you plan to fulfill each requirement. This guide aligns point-by-point with each section of the application!

1. Training and experience in a specific work sector

3 courses + 50 hours related experience

Leveraging concrete knowledge and skills is central to on-the-ground international development work. Through this PC Prep program, you will begin to build a professional specialty, which should serve your career well whether or not you become a Peace Corps Volunteer.

For PC Prep, you need to complete at least 3 courses that align with a specific work sector (they can but do not need to come from your academic major or minor). You also must accumulate a minimum of 50 hours of volunteer or work experience in that same sector, preferably in a teaching or outreach capacity.

Peace Corps Tip! If you intend to apply to the Peace Corps, the best way to assure that you will be a strong candidate is to explore Peace Corps' openings and identify the type of assignments in which you'd like to serve (https://www.peacecorps.gov/ways-to-serve/service-assignments/browse-opportunities), then review the positions' required and desired qualifications and build them up accordingly. In the process, you should fulfill these PC Prep experiential requirements!

There are six sectors (https://www.peacecorps.gov/ways-to-serve/our-work-sectors/) in which Peace Corps Volunteers serve—detailed below. Choose one sector to focus on then complete at least 3 courses + 50 hours of related experience in that sector.

Note: Actual Peace Corps assignments are based on local needs, and thus may or may not align seamlessly with your qualifications. Flexibility is central to the Peace Corps experience!

1. Education

Teach lessons that last a lifetime. Education is the Peace Corp's largest program area. Volunteers play an important role in creating links among schools, parents, and communities by working in elementary, secondary, and postsecondary schools as math, science, conversational English, and resource teachers or as early grade reading and literacy teacher trainers. Volunteers also develop libraries and technology resource centers.

If you choose Education, take 3 courses from one of the following areas:

 Education or Education Curriculum & Development

 Teacher Education, Middle Grades

Education, or Special Education

 English, Reading, or Linguistics

 Math or Integrated Math & Sci

o Computer Science

Engineering

And build 50 hours of related field experience through an activity such as:

- Teaching in one of these or a similar form: in a classroom, with a community outreach organization, or in a formal tutoring capacity
 - The subject of the teaching may be English as a Foreign/Second Language, special education, drama, or a STEM subject
- Tutoring or volunteering at College Station ISD or Bryan ISD schools
- Tutor at the Texas A&M Tutoring Center
- Be a conversation partner at the Writing Center to help students practice their English speaking and listening

2. Health

Serve on the front lines of global health. Health Volunteers work within their communities to promote important topics such as nutrition, maternal and child health, basic hygiene, and water sanitation. Volunteers also work in HIV/AIDS education and prevention programs to train youth as peer educators, develop appropriate education strategies, provide support to children orphaned by the pandemic, and create programs that provide emotional and financial support to families and communities affected by the disease.

If you choose Health, take three courses from one of the following areas:

Nursing

- Health or Public Health
- Biology or Biochemistry

Nutrition

- Biomedical Engineering
- Psychology

Recommended courses:

- AFST 206/PBSI 206: Black Psychology
- HLTH 236: Introduction to Health Disparities and Diversity
- KINE 282: Culture of Wellness

- Help to sort and distribute food at a food pantry or bank such as the Brazos Valley Food Bank or the 12th Can
- Volunteering in the AgriLife extension Master Wellness Volunteer Program

3. Environment

Help forge a global movement to protect our planet. Volunteers lead grassroots efforts in their communities to protect the environment and strengthen understanding of environmental issues. They teach environmental awareness in elementary and secondary schools and to youth groups and community organizations, empowering communities to make their own decisions about how to protect and conserve the local environment. Volunteers also address environmental degradation by promoting sustainable use of natural resources.

If you choose Environment, take three courses from one of the following areas:

- Bioenvironmental Science, Environmental Studies or Molecular and Environment Plant
- Rangeland, Wildlife & Fisheries Management
- Ecology and
- Conservation Biology
- Atmospheric Sciences
- Horticulture or Botany
- Marine Science or Maritime Studies
- Architecture
- Geology

Recommended courses:

And build 50 hours of related field experience through an activity such as:

- Educating the public on environmental or conservation issues, or working on environmental campaigns
- Conducting biological surveys of plants or animals
- Gardening, farming, nursery management, organic or low-input vegetable production, or landscaping
- Providing technical assistance and training in natural resource management
- Volunteering at Texas A&M AgriLife Extension, Keep Brazos Beautiful, or The Gardens
- Participating in Aggie Replant Day
- Volunteering in the Master Wellness, Master Gardeners, or Master Naturalists Volunteer Program
- Work conducted as an Office of Sustainability and Campus Enrichment ambassador
- Conducting research or volunteering with the Department of Ecology and Conservation Biology

4. Agriculture

Lead grassroots efforts to fight hunger in a changing world. Agricultural Volunteers work with small-scale farmers and families to increase food security and production and adapt to climate change while promoting environmental conservation practices. They introduce farmers to techniques that prevent soil erosion, reduce the use of harmful pesticides, and replenish the soil. They work alongside farmers on integrated projects that often combine vegetable gardening, livestock management, agroforestry, and nutrition education.

If you choose Agriculture, take three courses from one of the following areas:

- Agricultural Economics
- Agriculture Communication and Development
- Animal Science
- Ecology and Conservation Biology
- Food Science and Technology
- Bioenvironmental Sciences, Environmental
 - Studies, or Soil and Crop

And build 50 hours of related field experience through an activity such as:

- Working with a large-scale or family-run business involving vegetable gardening, farming, nursery work, tree planting or care, urban forestry, landscaping, livestock care and management, or fish cultivation and production
- Teaching or tutoring the public in environmental or agricultural issues/activities
- Working on the business management or marketing side of a commercial farm
- Volunteering at Texas A&M AgriLife Extension
- Participating in the Master Wellness Volunteer Program to receive education and training related to health, nutrition, and food safety
- Working to provide business management or marketing support to local farmers markets such as The Farm Patch and Farmers Market at Bryan City

5. Youth in Development

Empower the next generation of changemakers. Volunteers work with youth in communities on projects that promote engagement and active citizenship, including gender awareness, employability, health and HIV/AIDS education, environmental awareness, sporting programs, and info technology.

If you choose Youth in Development, take three courses from one of the following areas:

- Sociology

- Working or volunteering at an organization that focuses on youth education and development such as a summer camp, afterschool program, library, or YMCA/YWCA
- Working as a 4-H and Youth Development Volunteer or Mentor
- Volunteering at Philosophy for Children

6. Community Economic Development

Harness 21st-century tools to help communities lift themselves. Volunteers work with development banks, nongovernmental organizations, and municipalities to strengthen infrastructure and encourage economic opportunities in communities. They frequently teach in classroom settings and work with entrepreneurs and business owners to develop and market their products. Some Volunteers also teach basic computer skills and help communities take advantage of technologies such as e-commerce, distance learning, and more.

If you choose Community Economic Dev., take three courses from one of the following areas:

- o Business or International o Economics or Business
- Econometrics
- Political Science
 Accounting or Finance
- Computer Science
- o Communications or Marketing

Recommended courses:

- o INTA 201: Introduction to International Studies

- Contribute to revitalization projects in downtown Bryan
- Work or volunteer at the Small Business Development Center at Texas A&M to assist small businesses with business planning, marketing, or financial management
- Participate in McFerrin Center for Entrepreneurship initiatives

Nearly two-thirds of Peace Corps Volunteers serve in Education or Health. Coursework and meaningful experience in one of these areas—especially teaching English as a second/foreign language—produce some of the strongest candidates.

2. Foreign language skills

Requirements vary by region of interest

Most students must hone their capacity to interact professionally using a non-English language. Minimum course requirements vary by desired placement region.

- ☐ Latin America: Students indicating an intention to serve in Spanish-speaking countries must build strong intermediate proficiency, having completed two 200-level courses or learned Spanish through another medium.
- ☐ West Africa: Students indicating an intention to serve in French-speaking African countries must build proficiency in French or another Romance language, having completed one 200-level course or learned the language through another medium.
- ☐ Everywhere else: Students indicating an intention to serve anywhere else do not have explicit language requirements to complete the Program, but they should still be encouraged to study a foreign language.

Note: If you are a strong native speaker and hope to serve in a country that speaks your same language, you can skip this requirement!

3. Intercultural competence

3 approved courses or 1-2 courses + substantive intercultural experience areness.

With this learning objective, you will deepen your cultural agility through a mix of three introspective courses in which you learn about others while reflecting upon your own self in relation to others. The goal is for you to build your capacity to shift perspective and behavior around relevant cultural differences. Some example courses:

You'll take at least 1 of these core introspective diversity and inclusion courses:

- ANTH 205: Peoples and Cultures of the World
- ANTH 222: Cross Cultural Competency
- GLST 211/ENGL 211: Foundations in Cultural Studies
- POLS 231: Intro to World Politics

And choose 2 additional electives from the above list or these below:

- AGSM 105: Global Water Scarcity
- ALEC 350: Global Agricultural Issues

CARC 101: Cultural and Social Issues in the Natural, Built and Virtual Environment

- GEOG 202: Geography of the Global Village
- IBUS 310: Global Context of Business

- PERF 301: Performance in World Cultures
- TEFB 273: Intro to Culture, Community, Society and Schools
- Any courses from the Previous list

Is there another course in the catalog that you feel meets this requirement? Please discuss it with your PC Prep Coordinator.

- Studying or volunteering abroad can count towards the intercultural competence elective if it was in one of the Peace Corps Countries.
 - Studying/volunteering abroad may substitute for one course. Experiences that last a full semester or longer may substitute for both electives.
- Other immersive and reflective intercultural experiences may also count. Each distinct intercultural experience lasting at least 40 hours may substitute for one elective. Please discuss experience eligibility with your PC Prep Coordinator.

Peace Corps Tip! Prolonged intercultural experiences completed concurrently with your undergraduate studies—such as studying or volunteering abroad, supporting new immigrants or refugees acculturate to the United States, or volunteering in diverse schools—would also strengthen your Peace Corps candidacy significantly.

4. Professional and leadership development

Resume and interview support + leadership experience opportunities are highly professional and selective. PC Prep requires three specific activities that will strengthen your candidacy for the Peace Corps (or any other professional endeavor):

- 1. Have your resume critiqued by someone in the Career Center.
- 2. Attend a workshop or class on interview skills at the Career Center.
- 3. Develop at least one significant leadership experience and be prepared to discuss it thoughtfully. For example, organizing a campus event, leading a work or volunteer project, or serving on the executive board of a student organization.
